JLT Mobile Computers Named a Red Herring 100 Winner

Award Recognizes the 100 Private Technology Firms in North America Driving the Future of Technology

Tempe, AZ. — May 22, 2006—JLT Mobile Computers, Inc. a leading provider of rugged, wireless mobile computers built for use in challenging environments, today announced that it has been selected as a winner of the annual “Red Herring 100 North America” award by Red Herring magazine. This list of 100 privately held companies in North America recognizes those that play a leading role in innovating the technology business. To view the full list, please visit www.redherring.com.

Disruptive technologies and business plans

“With venture capital flowing again, we’re seeing a lot of innovative new companies taking on the established players with disruptive technologies and innovative business plans,” said Joel Dreyfuss, Editor-in-Chief of Red Herring. “The Red Herring 100 North America companies, among them JLT Mobile Computers, are pushing and breaking the boundaries of the technology business and we are excited to report on their success stories.”

“JLT is pleased to be recognized by one of the world’s leading technology magazines for its expertise in conquering challenging computing environments and for executing a winning business strategy,” said Todd Einck, CEO and Founder of JLT Mobile Computers.

JLT Mobile Computers has been providing rugged computers for real world use since 1999. Its wireless, mobile computers have been intelligently designed for use in harsh environments where users are exposed to dirt, moisture, shock, vibration or extreme temperatures. Today, tens of thousands of JLT’s computers are used throughout the world in the military, law enforcement, construction and mining, warehousing and in many other remote environments.

More than just buzz

Red Herring’s lists of top private companies are an important part of the renowned magazine’s tradition of identifying new and innovative technology firms and entrepreneurs. Companies like Google and eBay were spotted in their early days by Red Herring editors as some that would change the way we live and work.

After receiving more than 1,000 submissions and nominations, Red Herring's editorial staff rigorously evaluated JLT Mobile Computers and the other contenders through a careful analysis of financial data and subjective criteria, including quality of management, execution of strategy, and dedication to research and development. The Red Herring 100 North America companies are at the forefront of the technologies that are changing our lives in profound ways.

Honoring the best

To honor the Red Herring 100 companies, Red Herring has invited their CEOs and founders to present at its Red Herring Spring 2006 conference, a forum for technology's most exciting companies, and to share their insights on the future of innovation and the entrepreneurial journey. Scheduled to take place at the Hyatt Regency Hotel in Monterey, this intimate, invitation-only conference will explore "The Pursuit of Disruption" and how it spawns unexpected opportunities, novel alliances, and great success stories.
